BOWLING.

"K. K. Korn Kob Klub tackles the All Rooters, and a very exciting series of three games may be looked for. Both teams are supposed to be quite evenly match are supposed to be quite evenly matched. The games will be witnessed by large delegations of bowlers from all parts of the city, and there will be a street and red-fire demonstration early in the evening. There will be two carriages in the parade, the first containing Mayor Sweeney, Colonel "Billy Fette, President C. L. Ebeling and Vice President Fred Brash of the league, and in the second carriage will be found representatives of the press. At the alleys Mayor Sweeney will roll the first ball.

FOOT BALL.

There is a possibility that Arthur L. McFarland, of St. Clairsville, will coach the reorganized W. A. C. team. McFarland is now with W. & J. and was the star player Saturday, he making the two touchdowns scored against Mariet-ta college. He was in Wheeling Saturday night, and stated that for business reasons, he would like to play nearer home, and if it could be arranged, would be agreeable to playing with the local aggregation. "Mac" is a favorite wherever his gigantic form has been seen on a gridiron, and this is true especially of Wheeling. He has refused many glowing offers from D. C. & A. C. and others of the big teams in this sec and others of the big teams in this sec-tion to play at Washington, besides re-fusing offers to coach Western college teams. He is connected with his fath-er in business in St. Clairsville, and prefers playing nearer to his home. McFarland would be a big drawing card here. He promised to give a de-finite answer to-day, whether he will join W. A. C.

THE DEAL IS OFF.

West Virginia Glass Company Will not be Absorbed by

THE TABLEWARE COMBINE

Unless an Entirely Different Proposition is Made-The Option Held on This Plant by the Combine Expired Saturday at Miduight and Cannot be Renewed on the Same Conditions-Crystal may be out too.

Some time ago the National Glass Company—the tableware combine—secured an option on the extensive Martin's Ferry plant of the West Virginia Glass Company, of this city. In the option the consideration was to be largely in cash. The option expired Saturday at midnight, and was not taken up. No information has been received by the officials of the West Virginia as to the intentions of the combine promoters, but so far as this par-ticular plant is concerned, Secretary A. J. Smith stated yesterday that the deal is off, and if the National wants the West Virginia now an entirely new deal will have to be gone through.

Another plant in the Greater Wheel-ing district on which the National took an option is the Crystal, of Bridgeport. This option, it was learned last night from an authoritative source, does not expire until October 15. Like the option on the West Virginia, the one on the Crystal is largely on a cash basis, and it remains to be seen whether the combiners will come to the mark on these two denls.

On the other deals the combine has in hand it is said most are on a stock basis, the owners of the plants taken in receiving little cash and much of the combine stock.

inst night, gave it as his opinion that the fallure to follow up the option or the West Virginia meant one of two things, the collapse of the combine or the purpose of letting the Crystal and West Virginia remain on the outside.

A Conference To-day.

Senator Scott stated last night that President Rixley and one or more other officials of the United States Glass company, would visit Wheeling this afternoon to further discuss the offer made recently to the company for the acquisition of the old Hobbs glass house, South Side, by local capital. That the negotiations will result in its transfer is a hope deeply felt by the entire community.

SENATOR HANNA

On Dewey as a Presidential Possibility-An Insult to the Hero of Man-PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 1.-The Post

o-morrow will say: United States Senator Mark Hanna to-morrow will say:

United States Senstor Mark Hanns says this of the possibility of Admiral Dewey for the presidency:
"The practice of continually placing the name of Admiral Dewey on the list of prospective presidential candidates is indecent. It is an insult and a great injustice to the hero of Manila bay himself, as he has frequently said that nothing in the world would induce him to run for president or any other political office.

"To force upon this brave and gallant sallor to the necessity of again and again declaring he will not accept any political office is, in my opinion, contemptible and places this man of integrity, sterm purpose and determination in the ranks of those shifting aspirants for political honors, who have not the stamina to resist the flattery or bland-ishments of political schemers."

The senator, when asked if Mr. Mc-Kinley would positively be a cfindlidate for the presidency again, said everything polnted that way.

"John R. McLean's speech at Hamilton Saturday, is in part unprincipled, for the very potent reason that during his whole career he has acted contrary to many of the principles he advocates in that address. Some of his assertions are foolish and rigiculous, and no person knows better than John R. McLean that the prophecies he makes are false and misleading, and impossible of realization.

"I do not think the great state of Ohlo will go over to the Democratic side of the column this year because I can see no reason why any Republican in Ohlo would vote for John R. McLean for its chief executive.

"As for Mr. McLean's attacks upon myself I have nothing to say, as I don't care what people like McLean say about me personally."

William Pember Reeves, who is accompanied by his wife and daughter, is the general agent in London of New Zealand, where, as minister of labor, he secured the enactment of the compulsory arbitration law, which brought internal renown to himself and peace and prosperity to New Zealand. It provides for the settlement of trades disputes "without barbarous methods."
"Disputes between capital and labor," said Mr. Reeves to-day. "are arbitrated upon in New Zealand by the state tribunals, of which there are several and from any one of which appeal may be made to the central tribunal. As a result of this law we have had no strikes or other labor disturbances in New Zealand for over five years."

General, the Hon. Sir Andrew Clarke, R. E. G. C. M. G., agent general of Victoria at London and formerly chief commissioner of Crown lands in Victoria, said he expected to receive his instructions regarding the Philadelphia congress within a day or two.

Sir Andrew will call upon Admiral Dewey, whom he knew when Dewey was a middy in the Mediterranean and who Sir Andrew thinks shoulf have been left in the Philappines until peace has been restored there.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 1.—
One of the "big times" in Methodism is the convening of the annual conference, and especially so when the "lay" brethren come up to the annual confer-ence every four years. The attendance this year is quite large, nearly four hundred ministers and laymen being here. It is at these sessions that representarives to the general conference of the church from the annual confer-ences are elected. The laymen at this time also get a chance to be represented in the law making department of the the law making department of the church.

There has been quite a contest for these beforer from the first arrival of the brethren on the ground here. There has never been a scarcity of timber, always enough Barkines being willing. The contests for these honors began on yesterday morning after the convening of the two conferences, and continued until near the close of the session, about 5 o'clock, many ballots being necessary in nearly every instance of election. There were some keen disappointments in this lay election, but the brethren seemed to accept the inevitable and slug the long metre doxology, and walt four years more.

Wheeling was honored with the presiding officer of the lay conference and one of the provisional delegates in the Hon. A. J. Clarke, an honor worthily bestowed. Dr. Moore, presiding elder of the Wheeling district, was chosen as one of the ministerial delegates to the general conference. Dr. Moore seems to be the most popular member of the bishop's cabinet, and exceedingly so among his brother ministers.

The work of the conference seems to be well in hand, and although one day later than usual, will probably adjourn on to-morrox (Monday) night. There will not be very many changes in the location of the ministers, this year. There will probably be two changes in the Wheeling district, one at Zane street church, Wheeling, and the other at Moundsville. The Moundsville people are wanting Rev. F. N. Lynch, who is now at Grafton, W. Va., and the Grafton people here are determined to hold on to him. Both factions have been to the bishop, but they are still in the dark as to the dutome. The bishop alone can tell.

For Zane street. Rev. C. H. Maloney, secretary of the State Epworth League society, is slated. Each of the churches, where vacancies are expected to occur, have representatives on the ground, and they are not leaving any stone unturned to get the best in the shop for their church.

made. But the examination conducted by the ministers resulted in a number being turned down. The examination is the first gate of entrance. Incidentally, I heard two questions propounded to one of the applicants, namely: Who was the author of the "Pilgrims Progress?" Answered, John Bunion. When and by whom was America discovered? Answered, "Columbus, and he had a hard time getting here." Many of these young men are from the interior of the state, with a very limited education, but possibly if taken up by the church nut possibly if taken up by the church have been represented by visiting ministers from the east and west. Drs. Spencer and Berry being on hand, representing the church extension and Epworth League. Dr. Berry, genial and large hearted, has made many friends in West Virginia, and I find that he is one of the most popular representatives of the church at large that travels, and as the editor of the "Epworth Herald," is the right man in the right place.

Services were held in many of the churchs to-day, Elshop Foss filling the pulpit of the First Methodist church. Long before the hour of 19:30 the church was packed from altar to entrance, many being turned away. The bishop's discourse was an intellectual feast, and wife ever be remembered by all who were fortunate to hear it.

The services during the entire day have been quite interesting, and have been attended by large crowds of people. The records of this conference will show that for business and continued pleasure this one has excelled all others.
